I hold a strict policy about coming to class on time. Out of respect to other students, students who come 10 minutes late or later are not allowed in class (this is stated even more

Student Comments

I think there should be a few assignments that should be turned in, even if they aren't graded. Students will actually do their work.  great course! great professor! too bad I didn't do it. I failed the class :( Course was amazing, but the instructor failed to show to class several times. The instructor was well organized and was able to communicate the ideas of the course effectively. The class was very interesting, the subject is quite fascinating, and the instructor was able to convey the importance of the course. Overall, I really enjoyed this class, the programming assignment was challenging and interesting. The only suggestion I would do to the instructor is to be more concise when writing the examinations. They are painfully long, the student's knowledge would be better with simpler (less time consuming) questions.  The teacher could be a bit more understanding of those who are a few minutes tardy. Instead she just kicks you out and you end up missing the rest of the lecture. Also she should spend more time preparing her lectures. They are very confusing because they are hard to follow.
